Nonperturbative many-body localization

J. Zakrzewski
Jagiellonian University, Cracow, Poland

I will discuss a model of many body localization that is non-perturbative in the sense that without interactions the system is not localized – in contrast to standard models discussed in numerous papers recently.